

THAW'S LAWYERS WILL HOLD AN IMPORTANT CONFERENCE

At Which Evelyn Will be Cautioned to Hold Nothing Back

HER CONNECTION WITH LEDERER DIVORCE CASE

Attorney Peabody Says That if Jerome Expects to Slip in an Insanity Commission He Must Underestimate Intelligence of The Defense.

New York, Feb. 16.—A hurry call and a mandatory order caused Evelyn Thaw to turn back after she had entered the Tombs shortly before noon to visit her husband, and hasten to the office of Attorney Delmas. A desire to know just how she had figured in the divorce case of George Lederer, the theatrical manager, is said to have prompted Delmas to seek a full explanation.

Evelyn didn't figure prominently in the case and was never served with papers, though the fact is pointed out that she was named as a correspondent by Mrs. Lederer. She has always maintained that her name was dragged in without warrant.

Forty minutes later Evelyn returned to the Tombs with Delmas. They were joined by Dan O'Reilly and the three held a long conversation with Thaw. Shortly before noon it was learned that there is to be an important secret conference of all of Thaw's counsel late this afternoon. It is said that Delmas fears surprises when Evelyn is placed on the stand for cross examination and at this afternoon's conference at which the husband will be present, the importance of keeping nothing from the attorneys will be urged upon Evelyn, and another recital of their story of her life may be held. There are now good reasons to believe that Jerome's statement yesterday that he would not antagonize the defense should see fit to ask for an insanity commission was only a feeler, to draw out the defense and ascertain its feelings on the matter. If so it served its purpose.

"If Jerome thinks we are going to sit quietly by and allow him to slip an insanity commission into this case at this stage," said Attorney Peabody, of Thaw's counsel today, "he underestimates our intelligence. Any such move on his part will be fought by us to the last ditch."

DR. BURNER'S BODY WILL ARRIVE MONDAY

The Funeral Taking Place From D. T. Cole's Residence on Tuesday Afternoon.

Mr. D. T. Cole received word Saturday morning from Los Angeles, Cal., that the remains of the late Dr. H. R. Burner, who died at his sanitarium at that place on Tuesday morning last, had been shipped to Newark on Thursday night via the Santa Fe route. It is expected that the body will arrive here Monday and the funeral will be held from the residence of Mr. D. T. Cole, 59 South Fourth street, on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and will be under the auspices of Newark lodge, No. 623, and Mr. Olive Encampment, No. 12, I. O. O. F., and the interment will be made in Cedar Hill cemetery.

Dr. Burner's parents, Henry Russell Burner and Catherine Burner, were among the oldest pioneer settlers of Licking county, having settled there in 1808. Dr. Burner's father was former county commissioner of this county and was a very influential, enterprising citizen. Dr. Burner was born in Franklin township, Licking county, March 23, 1843, and at the time of his death was in their 63th year of his age. A singular coincidence is that if he had lived until the next day it would have been the same day of the month that his brother died in Los Angeles two years before. Dr. Burner's remains will be laid to rest beside his brother, J. V. Burner, in Cedar Hill cemetery. Friends are invited to attend the funeral.

The King and Queen, in the historic golden coach, participated in the usual State procession. ### SEVEN RIVETS FOUND LOOSE IN BOILERS

And Had the Yorktown Sailed the Bennington Disaster Would Have Been Repeated.

San Francisco, Feb. 16.—The examining board of naval officers was convened at Mare Island, to investigate and place the responsibility for the condition of the gunboat Yorktown's boilers, from which seven rivets are said to have been found missing on the eve of her departure for Central America a few weeks ago. The orders for her sailing were countermanded and the gunboat Chicago went instead. It is stated at the navy yards that a repetition of the Bennington disaster would undoubtedly have occurred had the Yorktown sailed.

FAMINE SUFFERERS CANNOT DIG FOOD BECAUSE OF SNOW

Shanghai, Feb. 16.—An American newspaper writer named Ellis has returned here from the famine district. He reports that a heavy fall of snow has stopped the digging of weeds for food by the people, and that death from cold and starvation are increasing. The officials' attempts to gain control of the foreign relief funds have failed. The missionaries are now the sole distributors of this money, and are feeding vast numbers.

Washington, Feb. 16.—Details of the horrors of the present famine in China have been sent to the state department by Consul General Rodgers at Shanghai, after he had made a personal investigation of the camps on the outskirts of the stricken territory. The report caused the Red Cross society to renew its energies in the campaign for relief funds. It declares there is no attempt at sanitation and that the camps are crowded together and each contains many men, women and children, who are clothed in rags, disheveled, beyond description, and who are living on a scanty cup of rice a day. Up to the present time the Red Cross has collected $15,000 in money and has shipped 300 tons of flour, seed and wheat to the amount of 50,000 bushels for spring sowing will be forwarded from Seattle in a few days.

PLEADS GUILTY BUT MUST HAVE A JURY TRIAL

Grand Island, Neb., Feb. 16.—Because the Nebraska law makes it the duty of the jury and not of the judge to fix the penalty in a murder case, John Hamlin, who recently entered a plea of guilty of murder in the first degree for killing his sweetheart, Rachel Engle, must go through the form of a trial. This was the decision of Judge Hanna. The case will come up Feb. 25.

GIGANTIC TRACTION MERGER HAS BEEN NEARLY CONSUMED

Which Involves the Principal Interurban Properties in Ohio and Indiana

ALSO INCLUDING THE NEWARK CITY LINES

A Syndicate of Philadelphia Capitalists is Behind the Scheme for $100,000,000—Indianapolis, Columbus and Eastern Will Probably be Title of the New Company.

Cincinnati, Feb. 16.—A movement toward the consolidation of the urban and interurban traction lines of Ohio and Indiana is well under way, and, according to a generally accredited rumor current in financial circles today, will soon become an assured fact. That the plans for the merger of a number of lines under one management are rapidly approaching completion is not denied by those familiar with the progress made, but they decline to give out any definite or detailed information concerning the matter.

The merger, which will involve capital amounting to $100,000,000, has behind it the capitalists represented in the Morgan-Dolan-Schoepf syndicate, a combination with large Eastern resources. Representing Philadelphia money men, Kesley Schoepf, president of the Cincinnati Traction company, holding a lease on local lines, has quietly bought up a number of Ohio and Indiana properties at different times. Among those acquired were the bankrupt Appleyard lines in Ohio, several running out from Indianapolis, Dayton, O., Toledo, O., and the roads connecting intermediate points in both states. In several cities control of the urban lines has been secured.

The proposed merger is to take over all these lines and operate them from one point. The consolidated system would form a network of lines covering the entire western half of Ohio from Toledo to Cincinnati and the greater part of Indiana. The executive committee of the Morgan-Dolan-Schoepf syndicate consists of Randall Morgan, Dolan, Hugh McGowan, W. Kesley Schoepf, and W. S. Rowe. Schoepf has been representing these interests and for several years, according to advices received here, has been quietly buying up properties with the idea of eventually merging them into the big holding company.

It is said that the Cincinnati Traction company will probably be in the merger, though both Schoepf and Benson Foraker, the vice president, one of the other two years Harry Lewis, also an American, beat Taral. "I really believe I have ridden races than any other man alive," said Taral as he played billiards in Maurice Daly's rooms.

Taral thinks Miller a good rider in short races, but does not think he would hold his own against our best riders in long races. He saw some racing in November at the Jamaica and Aqueduct tracks, and little John-

New York, Feb. 16.—It is difficult to believe that "Fred" Taral has been 25 years a jockey, but such is a fact. He is now a little more than 40 years old, yet looks about the same as he did 15 years ago, with his well set square shoulders, his clear eyes and

His quick, energetic strides, a typical American jockey.

With his son John he will depart for Australia on Saturday next, there to ride for Baron Springer. His son John is also under engagement to the Baron, so the rare spectacle will sometimes be seen of father riding against son. In one race last year the son beat the father by a head. Taral's last races in America were in 1900. Then he went abroad, where in Australia and Hungary he has led the winning jockeys for four of the six years he has been there. In say that at the present time there is no proposition of this kind before them.

The Ohio syndicate, which was formed about a year ago, owns the Indiana, Columbus and Eastern, the Lima and Toledo Traction company and the stock of the Cincinnati Northern Traction company.

Not long ago the Philadelphia syndicate bought in the Appleyard properties, which includes the Dayton, Springfield and Urbana, the Columbus, London and Springfield, and the Central Market of Columbus.

The Ohio properties of the syndicate, which announces the nearing completion of the Indiana merger, include those named in the first portion of this article, with the addition of the Lima and Toledo, and several smaller lines which make a network throughout the northern and western portion of the state. The merging company will have direct lines connecting Cincinnati, Columbus and Indianapolis, Toledo, Ft. Wayne, Dayton, Springfield, Lima, Findlay and all of the important smaller towns and cities.

The work of consolidation has been going forward for months and the needed lines have been quietly absorbed whenever they were placed on the market.

If these plans are put through there will be a main trunk electric line from Cincinnati to Dayton. At the latter city lines radiate into Indiana. From Indianapolis the traveler is conveyed to the important cities of Terre Haute, Crawfordsville, Martinsville, Logansport, Muncie, Richmond, Wabash, Fort Wayne and Anderson. In Ohio, Hamilton, Dayton, Springfield, London, Columbus, Xenia, Newark, Zanesville, Lima, Defiance and Ottawa are all joined together with good schedules.

Most of these lines are separate, but in good condition, and considered very desirable properties.

So far as Indiana goes, the consolidation has been largely brought about. The Ohio companies are now to be welded together into one merger.

any Taral noticed how wide the jockeys let their horses swing out on the stretch turn. "My, pop," said the little fellow, "I wish they would do that in Australia. I would have a clinch in coming through on the rail." Taral's first "chem" as a boy was Charles Curtis, a fellow jockey, who is now United States Senator from Kansas. Mr. Curtis as a jockey rode old Taxgatherer, a well known selling plate of the '80's which was trained by Snip Donovan.

A dainty luncheon was served the club members and the following guests: Mrs. McClure, Mrs. Edward Maurath.

The Review club met Saturday afternoon, February 8, at the home of Mrs. W. G. Come, on Oak street. An unusually attractive program had been prepared for the afternoon by the hostess, Mrs. Cosgrove gave a very fine talk on Napoleon Bonaparte, and Mrs. Grant Jones spoke most interestingly of present conditions in India, in regard to what has been done by the British government to alleviate the sufferings of the natives, resulting from famine and plague. Mrs. Jones also explained the Eastern meaning of "caste" in a much truer way than does Mr. Russell in his articles in current numbers of the Cosmopolitan. Miss Elsie Hirschberg closed the afternoon's program with several solos, which, needless to say, were thoroughly enjoyed by the club members and guests.

A delightful masquerade party was given on Monday evening at the home of Miss Edna Streit on Western avenue, complimentary to Miss Charlotte Grundman of Evansville, Ind. The costumes were original and pretty and much merriment was afforded. A pleasant evening was spent in cards and games after which a dainty luncheon was served.

The guests present were: Misses Julia McCarthy, Emeline Kearney, Florence Tallman, Frances Duly, Gertrude Voigt, Irene Cosgrove, Bessie Smith, Leona Eagan, Marie Campbell, Marie Schaugnessy, Margaret Dwyer, Nellie Pryor, Bertha Williams, Grace and green. The yoke was of cluny heading and valenciennes, strips of valenciennes also being let into the lower part of the waist. The sleeves showed a little of the hand embroidery, and were finished with cuffs of insertion and plaited lace.

The Mission Circle of the Second Presbyterian church met in the parlors of the church on Monday. The devotional exercises were followed by a short business session. Mrs. Grant Jones, a missionary from India, then gave an interesting and instructive talk in her usual capable manner, on "The Home Life and Personal Experiences of the Missionary." The social hour was very pleasantly spent, and dainty refreshments were served.

The Taka Embroidery club was very delightfully entertained by Mrs. Charles Grill at her home on South Third street, Friday afternoon. Being the first meeting of the year a large number of members responded to roll call and several new names were added to the list. Following the business session some very artistic needlework was displayed after which a very delicious lunch was served. The club adjourned to meet with Mrs. W. H. Jones at her home on Arch street, Friday evening, March 1.

Mrs. Frank Hall is the charming hostess to the Review club this afternoon at her home on North Fifth street. The following interesting program was rendered:
German's Art Capitals—Anne Wolring.
Mozart—Mabel Tenney Rickert.
The paper on Mozart was very entertainingly featured by the Misses Carrie and Ruth Zentmeyer's rendition of Mozart Sonata, and by a piano trio, "Marriage of Figaro," by the Misses Zentmeyer and Miss Dora Lisle.

Mrs. Frank Crouch was the charming hostess to the Investigators' club at her home on Locust street on Monday afternoon. The following interesting program was rendered:

BIBLE READINGS
Big Meeting For Men—Byron W. King, at Taylor Hall, Tomorrow.
Tomorrow afternoon Byron W. King will again be present at Taylor Hall to deliver another of his interesting Bible readings. Two weeks ago Prof. King lectured to a large audience and he proved such a fascinating speaker that it is deemed best to limit the attendance to men at this time. Another reason for this is that some men will come to hear Mr. King when it is for men only who would not come to a mixed audience. It is expected that he will have a large house to hear him next Sunday.

Prof. King is not only a great orator, but he is a humorist as well. His witty way of saying things kept the large audience smiling and laughing constantly the other Sunday, but the purpose of his lecture is entirely serious. He comes with a message and his pleasing way of delivering it is sure to draw a good attendance.
All men are invited. The men's clubs of the churches and different lodges and unions are especially invited. He appeals to all classes of men.

Owing to this meeting there will be no meeting for boys next Sunday. Superintendent Simpkins will speak to the boys' club the following Sunday on "What Is a Boy For?"

Proposed Convention of States.

A bill has been introduced into the New York legislature appropriating $60,000 for the expense of holding a convention at Saratoga next October, the purpose of which will be to concert measures to combat effectively the trend toward centralizing of power in the hands of the Federal Government. The convention will discuss the problem of securing uniform legislation by the various States on the subjects of life and fire insurance, divorce, labor, public utilities and interstate commerce. Three delegates from each State in the Union are to be invited to attend, their expenses being paid by the State of New York. In speaking of the matter, the author of the bill used language which will appeal strongly to many. He said: "Conservative men view with some concern the suggestion or the conclusion that it is necessary for the States to surrender directly or by indication any portion of their sovereignty to the Federal Government which is not now already surrendered. It is not a question of State rights, but rather of preserving the sovereignty of the several States in those matters which are properly theirs to control."

Another doctor said it was about the worst case he ever saw. I followed their advice for 16 months, and still the eruption would not heal.

If you are a lodge officer, learn the ritualistic work so that the book isn't necessary as a crutch. When the membership reposes enough confidence in you to elect you to an office it has a right to expect that you will appreciate the compliment by at least committing the work and putting it on in form, which will reflect credit upon the lodge and the members. Nebraska Workman.
The society possesses the power to stride onward, and it's up to the workers of our fraternity to define the limits of its greatness.

From the organization of the A. O. U. W. in New York to the present time about $29,000,000 has been paid out to beneficiaries.

PLAINLY SPOKEN

Advice By Governor On Treatment of State Wards.

BRUTALITY PUT UNDER THE BAN

Superintendents of State Hospitals Will Formulate Rules For Treatment of Patients—Changes Made by Board of Public Works—Ohio Day at Expo—Buckeye Affairs.

Columbus, O., Feb. 16.—Disclosures of cruelty at Newburg and Athens state hospitals for insane give promise of bearing fruit for the betterment of conditions at all such state institutions.

Superintendents and trustees of various state institutions must devise some method to put a stop to cruel treatment of inmates by attendants. This demand was the substance of the short talk by Governor Harris to the members of the Hospital association, during its semi-annual conference held in Columbus, in conjunction with the state board of charities and corrections. A mass of complaints and charges have been received at the executive office in which practically all the institutions are involved. Many of these are without foundation, but not all can be thus dismissed. Governor Harris took advantage of the opportunity to give some of the conclusions he reached from a study of the conditions revealed.

GEORGE H. WATKINS.
President of the State Board of Public Works.

In his remarks Governor Harris made no accusations. He did not mention the name of any hospital or officer. He even referred to some of the charges as the product of imaginations of former inmates, stimulated by the excitement of public discussion of the institutional conditions, and he characterized what has been going on as "an epidemic" of accusation. But he declared that whatever there was, there should not continue to be, and must not be, any physical punishment or chastisement, of an insane ward of the state. He plainly stated that not only would cruelty not be permitted in the benevolent institutions, but also it must not occur in the penal institutions.

As a result of the conference and the governor's plain spoken advice the superintendents of the seven hospitals for the insane in Ohio, will hold a special meeting here March 1 with Secretary H. H. Shiner of the board of state charities, to devise some practical means of preventing abuse of insane patients.

George H. Watkins was re-elected president of the state board of public works when he began his second term, to which he was elected in November. The board also made up its official roster for the year. The most important changes were the selection of Elmer Womhold, instead of John O'Connor, for division superintendent at Dayton, and the selection of David R. Austin, former probate judge, to succeed the late Charles Whitlick as collector at Toledo. Seven bids for $76,000 worth of dredging in the Miami and Erie canal between Miamisburg and Middletown were opened by the board. That of E. M. Graves of Cleveland was the lowest and will likely get the contract.

Ohio day at the Jamestown exposition will be August 9. Governor Harris, accompanied by his staff and leading state officials, will be there that day. It will also be the occasion for the assembling of prominent Ohioans from all over the country and it is likely that the biennial legislative reunion will be held there then. Arrangements may be made for sending two regiments of Ohio soldiers to accompany the governor's party.

In the overhauling of state institutions and officials that seems to have become endemic, it came the turn finally of W. L. Finley, state oil inspector, to answer criticisms of the manner in which he is conducting the office. It was claimed he was not paying his stenographer as required by the law, and it was hinted that the receipts from the office are not as ample as they ought to be. Finley had a conference with the Governor Harris, and it was agreed that in the future the inspector will draw from the expense and stenographer fund the actual expense incurred. This is regarded as closing the incident and Governor Harris will not seek to have Finley resign. State Auditor Guilbert said with reference to the receipts. "The system under which the department is conducted is admirable and there is no chance for any crookedness. The reports of the deputy inspectors are filed in this office, and show for themselves the amount of oil gauged. The shortage complained of by some persons, who think the amount is not as large as it should be, can be explained easily by the fact that the September statements of the deputies are not included in the report that closes Oct. 1, for sometimes several days intervene before they are filed in this office. The next report of Finley would show the real transactions of the office, and I think there is nothing wrong in the statement, which was correct as far as it went." Finley says that when the final figures are made up they will show a net yield to the state of $18,000 a year from the office.

Horace M. Ankney, retiring food and dairy commissioner of Ohio, received a highly complimentary letter from Professor H. W. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry, in the department of agriculture at Washington, who is considered the government food expert, closing with the following paragraph: "I note that your term of office will expire Feb. 19, and I am only one of the thousands who will be sorry that your official activity is soon to come to an end. We hope your successor will be as efficient and as vigilant as you have been. That is the best wish we can make for him."

Renick W. Dunlap, who succeeds Mr. Ankney, formerly was a member of the state senate for the Capital district, his home being in Pickaway county. He is a graduate of the O. S. U., where he made a special study of the subjects that will be uppermost in his official duties.

The office of dairy and food commissioner was created by statute in 1886, and for five years the incumbents were appointed by the governor. In 1891 the position was made elective, and the term fixed at two years. The first commissioner was General S. H. Hurst of Ross, by appointment of Governor Foraker. He was succeeded by Frank H. Derthick, 1887-90; he in turn by Edward Bethell, 1890-92, being the first commissioner elected by the people; Frederick B. McNeal, 1892-97, succeeded by Joseph E. Blackburn, three terms, 1907-1903, then Mr. Ankney two terms.

Old soldiers in Ohio rejoice over the announcement from Washington that the move to abolish the 18 pension agencies in the country by consolidating all of them in one agency at Washington was checkmated by the senate committee on pensions, which struck out of the pension appropriation bill the consolidation provision passed by the house. This means the measure will fail and that the pension agency for Ohio will continue at Columbus. Senators in whose districts these agencies are located heard from the old soldiers regarding the matter, and were made to see that the government would not save a single dollar through the proposed plan of making Washington the only distributing point for pension checks.

Since the change recently in the office of clerk of supreme court there is said to be a movement under way to have the legislature change the plan of filling the office from election by the people to appointment by the judges of the supreme court. When Lawson E. Emerson resigned, the appointment of J. G. Obermyre to the vacancy, being the chief deputy clerk, was made by the governor on the recommendation of the supreme judges. The plan to make the office appointive by the court may come before the legislature at its session next year.

Washington county was the last in the state to settle with the state auditor, which delayed the report on Aikin tax receipts. The total receipts (including Dow tax before the new law went into effect) amounted to $9,219,664. The last full year of the Dow tax yielded $4,309,714 from 12,870 saloons. The total number of saloons is 9,628, a decrease of 109 since July. It appears that the Aikin law has reduced the number of saloons in the state about 25 per cent and increased the revenue from those that continue in business about 100 per cent.

It is reported H. E. Valentine, mayor of Bucyrus, having sold his residence there, will resign his office and remove to a farm he purchased near Chardon, Geauga county. Valentine is the author of the anti-trust law which bears his name, and made an unsuccessful attempt to keep the lid on in Bucyrus. His health failing, he decided to give up his office.

Attorney General Ellis, in an opinion rendered to State School Commissioner Jones, holds that under the laws of Ohio, there can be no segregation of races in the school system. The opinion was asked for by P. E. Graber of Cleveland, who, mentioning Mongolians and negroes, indicated a desire for separate schools in Cleveland.

Leave to file a petition in error was granted by the state supreme court to Harry G. Hammond, one of the representatives of the so-called bridge trust, who was convicted at Lima and fined $500 for operations in Allen county in violation of the Valentine anti-trust law. The petition assails the constitutionality of the Valentine act on the ground that it permits proof of conspiracy on reputation.

MAMMOTH CROWD HEARD JUDGE BEN LINDSEY AT AUDITORIUM

House Was Packed From Pit to Dome--Lecturer Won Hearts of All His Hearers With His Stories of Juvenile Court Work in Denver, Colo.

The largest audience ever assembled in Newark to hear a popular lecture, was that Friday night at the Auditorium which greeted Judge Ben B. Lindsey of Denver, Colo., the father of the Juvenile court in the United States. Every seat in the Auditorium was occupied and hundreds were turned away from the door because the state laws will not permit standing in the aisles. Hundreds would have been glad to have had an opportunity to stand or sit in any nook or crevice which might offer space enough for a seat.

Long before the hour set for the beginning of the lecture, the Auditorium was filled. Not a seat remained downstairs except those reserved in the boxes for the special guests from out of town. In the right lower box, the Board of Education had seats and in the right upper box a party of ten school teachers from Mt. Vernon was cared for. On the other side of the house sat the members of the Board of Service and City Council, while the box above was reserved for Mrs. Swan and her guests. These were the only seats in the house reserved except at the press table and on the stage.

Judge Lindsey arrived at the Auditorium shortly before 8 o'clock and was escorted to the stage where 45 or 50 of the city's prominent citizens were seated. Among those on the stage were Judge Charles Seward, Judge Brister, Mayor McCleery, Superintendent J. D. Simkins, Superintendent Alan of Mt. Vernon, Mr. R. I. Arnold of Mt. Vernon, Rev. L. P. Franklin, Rev. T. A. Cosgrove, Chief Sheridan, Sheriff Redman, the county commissioners and many others.

It was but a few moments after 8 o'clock when the curtain went up and disclosed the large party seated on the stage. Mayor Samuel H. McCleery addressed the audience and in a few words appropriate to the subject of the evening, introduced Judge Lindsey. The speaker was greeted with a hearty round of applause as he stepped to the front of the stage, for his fame had preceded him and every man and woman in the audience knew the speaker by reputation and had read or heard of his great work among the boys of the country.

The Judge made a few preliminary remarks before launching himself into the heart of his subject. He marked the great interest Newark people were taking in the problem of the boy, and the large interest of the parents manifested by the large audience.

The speaker then went to the bottom of things and in his talk he took occasion to score the state for its failure to make the proper laws to protect and to correct the boys. He blamed the state for not holding the parents responsible for the delinquency of their children.

He scored the occasional brutal methods of dealing with small offenders in some of the police courts of the land, but stated that fortunately this evil was being abolished steadily.

He berated teachers for not using more judgment and care in looking after their pupils and yet he modified his statements by showing that a precedent established years ago was generally responsible for such conditions of affairs.

He told of what had been done in his own and other states of the country for the removal of these evils, and his stories from the Juvenile courts of Denver were witty, pathetic and humorous as he related anecdotes from this or that case which had been brought before him for his attention.

In speaking of the evil of the ignorance of some police departments in handling small boys, Judge Lindsey said: "I have seen small boys of 13 to 15 years, confined in the same bull pen in police stations with hardened criminals who were charged with the vilest offenses in police annals."

"In such cases as these, the state is the chief offender. One night in such a place with such associations, might work harm that all the years of a man's life could not correct. We may do injury to the little ones by our neglect to take part in these civic improvements which tend to help the young boys. I sometimes think that the people of this country are giving us more credit for our work in Denver than is due us. We have merely discovered the secret of how to save the boys and we have been materially aided by the legislature of our state in giving us laws by which we can handle the juvenile cases."

The judge told of the founding of the first juvenile courts in the United States. The first one was in Denver in 1899, and yet Indiana had one of the same general plan which was then known as the Juvenile law. The purpose was to deal with the child while the old criminal law dealt with the things the child did. Judge Lindsey related the story of the first burglary case which he investigated in his court when three small boys were brought before him for burglary. They had broken into a car to get watermelons, but found none, and they forced the lids off several cases of California Fig Syrup. The gang then swallowed the contents of several bottles and later came to grief. When one of the boys was asked to tell the story he tearfully stated the facts and said he thought they had been punished enough.

"The assistant prosecutor was more anxious to have those boys convicted of burglarizing that car than he was to correct them for their wrong doing," said Judge Lindsey. "In such instances the state is more careless than some parents, and God knows they are sometimes careless enough."

"There is no doubt but that the property should be protected and that the boys should be corrected, but there is a right and wrong way to go at it."

"We had a case of a fourteen year old boy who lived near the railroad, and who had played in the railroad yards since he was a little shaver. He picked up coal on the tracks and was taught by his mother that the railroad officers had no right to interfere. Right there that boy learned at the age of nine years to disregard the law and its officers."

"When he was brought before me several years later for wrong doing, perhaps till tapping or breaking into cars, the boy was shown the error of his ways, but he was not prosecuted as the term is generally applied. The boy was charged with needing help."

"But that boy's mother was brought into court and charged with contributing to the delinquency of the little offender. Now you ask, 'What is a delinquent?' It is any child under the juvenile age as fixed by law who is in the state's charge."

"The solution to the problem is to get the boy out of the environment which is contributing to his delinquency. Take away the opportunity for him to do evil, avoid brutality, do away with the lash and iron bars, and above all, avoid the mistake of letting him think you are weak."

"I was startled one morning by reading in the morning papers of the operations of a gang of 'boy bandits' as they were termed by the reporter. The boys knocked down a man in an alley and robbed him. I immediately commenced an investigation of the case. I first got acquainted with the boys, then with the neighborhood in which they lived. I was standing in a saloon trying to learn all I could of the neighborhood, when I saw little boys and girls of seven and eight years coming into the place with pails."

"I heard men standing at the bar telling vile stories which these children were permitted to hear. Vice language and epithets nauseating to the ears of any man were heard and absorbed by these children."

"This is the community from which the leader of the gang of boy bandits came and in which he grew up for several years. The boy was consequently immoral or what the world calls 'bad.' We do not fight the boy in such cases as this, but fight the evil which made that boy bad. We had laws made by which any man who aided in making the boys bad, was guilty of a crime."

"Instead of bringing that boy into court charged with highway robbery, we charged him with needing help, and sent him to the detention home. But we did bring in the father and charged him with aiding the delinquency of his son."

"The laws of this country will not permit a boy under 21 to make a contract which will be legal. He must have a guardian before such a contract can be made."

"But this same law lets the boy's morals go unprotected on through the years when he is being moulded into the man which he is to be without one thought of what the consequences will be."

"In the past the boys were not understood by the officers. All boys have a keen sense of justice and they couldn't see the justice in some of the actions of the cops. The problem is to teach the boys how to help themselves. Overcome the evil in them with good and not by the use of the strap. Use kindness but firmness; not the firmness which produces hate, but the firmness which makes him realize that you mean it."

Judge Lindsey told the story of one of his boys who came to him and reported a saloon-keeper for keeping his place open all day Sunday contrary to the law. The boy appended his report with the question, 'If he can keep open and break the law why can't we swipe things?' Why can't we shoot craps down in the alley, if them swell guys can gamble at the club? That, says the judge, is one of the most serious things the probation officers have to deal with in juvenile work. The little ones

REAR-ADMIRAL HIGHBORN PRAISES PE-RU-NA.

Peruna Drug Co.,
Columbus, Ohio.

Gentlemen:—After the use of Peruna for a short period, I can now cheerfully recommend your valuable remedy to any one who is in need of an invigorating tonic.

Very respectfully,
PHILIP Highborn.

IF ALL the men and women who have used Peruna and found it beneficial should write testimonials giving the plain facts, we would be overwhelmed with certificates.

But only now and then one who has been benefited by Peruna stops to give any public acknowledgment of a cure.

Various considerations prevent people from writing testimonials for publication. Inordinate modesty, oversensitiveness and business considerations forbid many people from writing testimonials who otherwise would be glad to do so.

All Classes Represented.

But in spite of all these considerations, thousands of people without any solicitation whatever do write testimonials for Peruna.

We receive these from men of high degree and low degree, from the army and the navy, from the hall of congress, from high officials in the church, from the society belle and the washerwoman, from the military man and the civilian.

We have never put into print but a small per cent. of those actually received.

Sincere Testimony.

In presenting the testimonial of Admiral Highborn we appreciate the high rank of our testifier.

We feel sure that his testimonial will appeal to others as it does to us, that nothing but a genuine wish to do others good would have impelled a man in such honorable rank to give public testimony to any remedy, however valuable.

The Admiral is altogether too busy a man to answer letters of inquiry, but the reader can rest assured that his testimony is given in his exact words, over his signature.

Genuine Endorsements.

Our testimonials are and always have been given in the exact language of the testifier, with which we take no liberties whatever in adding to or changing them. In the use of testimonials we have always received them properly signed, in good faith, have published them in good faith, and if there has arisen a slight misunderstanding concerning them, it has been some unavoidable complication occurring after the testimonial has been furnished us.

A Captain's Letter.

Rudolph B. Schwickardi, Capt. 30th N. Y. Vol. Inf., writes from Washington, D.C.:
"Having the fullest confidence in the efficacy of Peruna, both as a tonic and as a remedy for catarrhal trouble, I commend its use in the strongest possible terms. It should be in every household."

can't understand why they are carried when the older and more flagrant violators are allowed full sway.

"In our court all boys brought in are classified," said Judge Lindsey. "They are either school boys or working boys. After being classified they are registered as being victims of something. We do not justify crime, but we have learned that the prime mover in most cases is the boy's love for adventure. He is a victim of that desire to do something. Fifty per cent of the boys in the courts of the big cities are there because they love to play."

"They are victims of 'no play grounds.' The people's property must be protected, but the boys' rights are given no consideration."

"Next, they are victims of sudden temptation. Not many of our great and good men escaped this sudden temptation at some time in their lives."

"They are victims of environment just as the boy who led the 'boy bandit' was raised in the bar room of a saloon."

"They are victims of bad parents or what is worse, no parents at all. Many parents know no more about moulding a boy's character than they do about setting a broken bone."

"They are victims of the 'moving about' fever."

"The solution to the problem as found by our court in Denver, is the detention home where the boys are sent and studied by experts in the training of boys. It is a moral hospital. It is a place where they are surrounded with every good influence with the belief that this will overcome the evil. It is a place for the development of character. Ninety-seven per cent of the boys on probation bring good reports from their teachers and the others are investigated. Not infrequently we find that their health is the cause of their poor reports and many times skillful treatment by a physician has been known to work wonders and effect a cure. Their homes and teachers are looked into and every effort is made to learn the cause of their bad reports. In the case is found absolutely unmanageable, the boy is then sent to the industrial home at Golden."

LINDSEY'S VISIT FROM LECTURE.
When things are bad in a neighborhood, the boys will be led.

All homes are more or less dependent upon one another.

When the Jews and the Irish get together they can skin anything that ever comes down the pike.

The child is the state and the state is the child.

Loyalty is one of the noblest of the duties of the human heart.

There are 2,000,000 children in industrial slavery in the United States.

The boy who obeys in the home will obey in the school; the boy who obeys in the school will obey in the state.

You can't always correct a child by patting him on the back.

Information comes from within rather than from without.

It is always a dangerous thing for a mother to believe that her boy is above evil.

Children can be the worst liars; children can be the most truthful.

Boys and girls who tell the truth are always safe.

Don't be afraid of getting caught doing wrong.

There is nothing so valuable as a boy except a girl.

Force begets force, violence begets violence and hate begets hate.

The best time for handling a man is when he is a boy.

Boys have a keen sense of justice. The solution of the problem is "Teach the boys how to help themselves."

It is a good thing for the hand, heart and head to grow and mature together.

Sunday school is a place where you go to give up a penny and get nothing back.

Most parents know no more about the development of a child's character than about setting a broken bone.

Never let the boys get away from you with a lie on their lips.

Out of Town Guests.
Out of town people able to the number of 50 or 75 heard the Lindsey lecture at the Auditorium. The entire faculty of Denison university with the exception of President Hunt, with their wives, occupied seats in the audience. Prof. Alan and R. I. Arnold and six teachers from Mt. Vernon occupied one of the boxes. Representatives from the Juvenile court from Columbus, Probate Judge I. G. Jennings, Deputy E. G. Dunn and Mrs. C. V. Martin and George Gibbons, probation officers of Zanesville and John A. Volls of Marietta, Ind., were others of prominence who attended the lecture.

Boys Met the Judge.
A number of boys under probation, "Mrs. Swan's kids," went to the station in a body to greet Judge Lindsey as he arrived on the Pan Handle train at 5 o'clock.

It was planned to have 50 or 60 boys go to the station, but the late arrival of the judge made this plan miscarry. However, the kids did give the judge a good reception when he came. Judge Lindsey talked to nearly a thousand boys at the Lancaster reform school Thursday night.

Pastor Uses Pe-ru-na.
Rev. P. E. Swannstrom, box 223, Grantsburg, Wis., writes:

"I feel that it is my duty as well as a pleasure to let you know that I am entirely cured. I have used Peruna according to your personal directions and I am very glad that I found a medicine which would cure me after three years of suffering."

Editor's Recommendation.

Fred M. Armstrong, city editor, Daily Gazette, Delaware, Ohio, writes:

"It gives me great pleasure to be able to recommend Peruna to everybody who is looking for a first-class tonic. Two bottles completely cured me and now I am enjoying the best of health."

Congressmen Endorse Pe-ru-na.

Hon. W. E. Andrews, Hastings, Neb., formerly vice-president of Hastings College and ex-member of the Fifty-fourth Congress, writes:

"I cheerfully recommend the preparation, Peruna, as a healthful tonic and a successful remedy for catarrh in its various forms."

Author Praises Pe-ru-na.

Mr. Robert E. Hanvey, well-known author and lecturer, writes from 11 S. Lincoln street, Chicago, Ill.:

"I was in good health until about four years ago when my back became lame and sore. The pains kept increasing with severe twitches and slow excruciating aches. Having read of Peruna, I decided to try it. I found relief in ten days. Within three months I was well once more. I give all thanks to Peruna."

The Finances.

Mrs. Mary A. Swan the one woman who was behind the big movement, and to whom all credit is due for the wonderful turnout at the Auditorium last night, stated Saturday that she was more than pleased with the results. She made the following statement of receipts and expenditures, which may be corrected later:

Collected from subscriptions, $294.25
Expenditures:
Lecture ..... $100.00
Railroad expenses ..... 25.00
Auditorium ..... 70.00
Incidentals ..... 19.25
Totals expenditures ..... $214.45
Balance ..... 79.80

Mrs. Swan stated that no plans had been made yet for the expenditure of the balance. She stated that when the lecture was arranged for, it was with the understanding that the Newark date was the only one the Judge would have and that it would require all the money collected, to pay expenses. This would not have been enough under those circumstances, but as other cities helped to pay the expenses, Newark's share was smaller than, at first planned for, so the balance remains.

Mrs. Swan is soon to commence a campaign for play grounds for the city, and this money may be put into this fund, and be used in the fight to get better conditions for Newark children.

Judge Lindsey at Oberlin.
Judge Lindsey left the city at midnight for Columbus, and took a through train to Cleveland, arriving there about 4 this morning. He went to Oberlin where he will lecture this afternoon. Before leaving the city, the Judge congratulated Mrs. Swan on the success of the venture and stated that he was delighted to have had the opportunity to address such a representative audience.

Stories Were There.
Mrs. Lillian A. Burt of Columbus, representing a religious publication, was present to take an account of the lecture. A stenographer took a verbatim report of the lecture, which will appear in an early number of Mrs. Burt's publication.

"Everybody Should Know."
Says C. G. Hays, a prominent business man of Bluff, Mo., that Bucklen's Arnica Salve is the quickest and surest healing salve ever applied to a sore, burn or wound, or to a case of piles. I've used it and know what I'm talking about. Guaranteed by F. D. Hall, Druggist, 27c.

CONDUCTOR EMICK DENIES THAT MADGE MOWERY WAS WITH HIM

When He Went to Louisville, Ky. but the Young Woman's Relations Had Let ers From Her Mailed in That City Saying She Was Caring for Him, While There.

F. R. Emick, formerly employed as a conductor on the city electric lines, and who left this city some time ago, returned recently from Louisville, Ky., where he has been following his occupation since November 25.

It will be remembered that an article appeared in the Advocate in November, stating that facts pointed to the elopement of Mr. Emick with a girl named Madge Mowery, whose home is at Alexandria. At that time the mother of the girl claimed that in her opinion her daughter had been "doped" and in this way persuaded to elope with the Newark car conductor. It was also said that the last seen of Emick was on a Columbus car with the Alexandria girl.

Mr. Emick, who has a wife and four children and resides at 423 West Church street, was much affected by the report and when seen by an Advocate reporter Friday, positively denied having left with the girl from Alexandria, or having been in her company after leaving Newark. He stated that the girl was on the same car on which he went to Columbus, but that after arriving in the Capital City, he saw no more of her and does not know where she is or where she went after reaching Columbus.

Securing a position in Louisville, where he commanded a much better salary than in this city, he went there with the knowledge of his family, who was in constant correspondence with him. Mr. Emick showed the Advocate man several evidences of the confidence in which his family holds him, and also a flattering endorsement of John Spencer, superintendent of the Newark city division of the electric lines.

A few weeks ago the former Newark man was injured in a street car accident in Louisville and was granted a 30 day leave of absence, during which time he is to stay at his home here recuperating. While it is not his intention to remove his family to Louisville at present, Mr. Emick expects to return to his position there.

Madge Mowery, the girl in question, is believed to be at her home in Alexandria.

MADGE MOWERY WAS IN LOUISVILLE AND WROTE FROM THERE (Special.)

Alexandria, O., Feb. 16.—Madge Mowery, who has been away from her home near here since November, when she was reported to have eloped with a Newark street car conductor, who has a wife and four children, returned to her home last Tuesday. The young woman is believed to have been in Louisville all of the time during her absence from here. A short time ago her sister, Mrs. Laura Richards, residing near here, received a letter from her bearing the date and postmark of Louisville, in which she said that she was there "caring for" the Newark man, Emick, who originally came from near here.

The young woman has heretofore borne a good reputation about here, and people of the community have been slow to put credence in the report, but from the recent developments, affairs seem to be assuming a most sensational shape.

COURT HOUSE NEWS

Attorney J. V. Hilliard filed an application in the Probate court asking for a rehearing in the case of the State of Ohio vs. Frank Favett, who was bound over to the Common Pleas court on the charge of shooting Wm. Schaller two years ago. Prosecuting Attorney Fitzgibbon raised the point that the defendant had waived examination in the lower court and had consented to be bound over to the Common Pleas court, consequently he was estopped from demanding a rehearing in the Probate court. The Probate court held that Prosecutor Fitzgibbon's point was well taken, and dismissed the application.

IS RHEUMATISM INCURABLE?

SCIENCE HAS PROVEN IT BUT A SYMPTOM OF KIDNEY TROUBLE.

Try It at Home, Get the Ingredients From the Drug Store and Mix Yourself.

Recent hospital reports show that the dread disease, rheumatism, is steadily increasing throughout the country. All known means of relief are being suggested to save the great amount of suffering this winter, especially among those who are not in a position to pack up and visit the noted health resorts to be treated. Recent tests prove rheumatism not exactly a disease in itself, but a severe symptom of kidney trouble, a condition caused by clogged up pores of the eliminative tissues in the kidneys which fail to filter the poisonous waste matter and uric acid from the blood permitting these substances to remain in the veins and decompose usually settling about the joints and muscles, causing the intense pain, swelling and stiffness of rheumatism.

There are numerous remedies known which many persons believe will relieve this suffering—salicylate of soda, colchicum, potash, etc.—but these drugs are terribly hard on the stomach, often ruining this most important organ, and they fail as often as they relieve.

A well known specialist, who has probably treated more cases of rheumatism than anyone else, and who is also the most successful, gives the following simple vegetable treatment, which is harmless and inexpensive, and so simple that anybody can mix it at home.

The ingredients are: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Go to any good prescription pharmacy and get these three vegetable ingredients and mix them by shaking in a bottle, taking as a dose a teaspoonful after each meal and again at bedtime.

There is nothing better in the world for backache, kidney and bladder trouble, too. Such symptoms as frequent and painful urination, soreness, weakness, general and nervous debility are caused by certain acids and poisonous waste matter, decayed tissue, etc., in the blood, which the kidneys will clear and purify after a few doses of this prescription.

Not long ago a young lady of Macon, Ga., visited the home of her fiancé in New Orleans. On her return home an old colored woman, long in the service of the family and consequently privileged to put the question, asked: "Honey, when is you goin' to git married?"

The engagement not having been announced, the Macon girl smilingly replied:

"Indeed, I can't say, auntie. Perhaps I shall never marry."

The old woman's jaw fell. "Ain't dat a pity, now?" she said. "But, after all, missy, dey do say dat ole maids is the happiest critters there is, once dey quits strugglin'!" — Lippincott's Magazine.

KEEP YOUR HEAD UNCOVERED.

The Constant Wearing of a Hat Propagates Dandruff Germs.

There are many men who wear their hats practically all the time when awake, and are blessed with a heavy shock of hair; yet if the scalp of these same men once became infested with dandruff germs, the parasites would multiply all the quicker for lack of air. Baldness would ensue as the final result. Newbro's Herpicide kills these germs and stimulates unhealthy hair to abundant growth. Herpicide is a pleasant hair dressing as well as a dandruff cure and contains not an atom of injurious substance. Sold by leading druggists. ## MANY CHARGES ARE SUSTAINED

Trustees Likely to Reorganize the Cleveland State Hospital.

FILE REPORT WITH GOVERNOR

Cruelty on the Part of Several Attendants Alleged in the Treatment of Patients, a Number of Cases Being Cited—General Intelligence of the Buckeye State.

Columbus, O., Feb. 16.—Governor Harris received the official report of the investigation by the trustees of the Cleveland state hospital of the charges against the management and employees of the hospital. Cruelty on the part of attendants in the treatment of patients was alleged.

About 29 of the 52 charges filed are sustained by the trustees among the allegations upheld being the following: That attendants put pieces of ice down the backs of two patients; that patients were pelted with bread by attendants; that some of the attendants swear at patients; that an attendant named Garrett kicked a patient named Hubbard at least 10 times without provocation; that the same attendant cursed another patient who was slow in putting on his shoes, struck him in the stomach and followed it with at least 10 more blows in the chest and stomach; that an attendant named Skinner struck a patient named Wakeman who became noisy; that Garrett kicked a patient named Bell because he was walking slowly; that when patients were being bathed four or five had black and blue spots and red blotches were seen; that a patient named Halle was restrained for 14 or 15 hours with a camisole, when Dr. West ordered it removed. The charge in the last case was that Halle had been put in a straight jacket, but that the trustees found there was no straight jacket in use at the institution.

In their report the trustees find that in all cases of brutality which came to the notice of the superintendent, the offenders were promptly discharged, but that many abuses remained undiscovered. The trustees also find that attendants were in some cases not properly instructed, and call attention to other matters that should be remedied. Governor Harris stated that he would leave the entire matter in the hands of the trustees to remedy the abuses found to exist as they saw fit, holding them responsible for the manner of conducting the hospital. While the governor would make no further statement, it was intimated that the trustees would probably make a complete reorganization of the institution.

Arguments in Oil Case.

Findlay, O., Feb. 16.—Argument to quash the 935 indictments recently found against the Standard Oil company and its subsidiary companies were made before Judge Duncan in the Hancock county common pleas court. The indicted companies are represented by Virgil P. Kline and S. H. Tolles of Cleveland and J. O. Troop of Bowling Green. Prosecutor David and George H. Phelps represented Hancock county. Judge Duncan took the motion to quash under advisement. The attorneys for the oil companies point out that more than one charge is made in the indictments, and for that reason the defendants can not prepare a defense.

Trainmen Crushed.

Stuebenville, O., Feb. 16.—A Wheeling & Lake Erie engine, while running fast to make a grade in the La belle iron works yards, struck a lad with point and upset over the bank. Four men were in the engine cab. Engineer Andrew Reming, 39, of Norwalk, was caught under the engine and crushed to death. Conductor Edward Gaffney was injured on the leg and hand. Fireman Ed Hoover and Yardmaster Edward Coen were badly bruised in jumping. The engine was wrecked and cars derailed.

Queen City After It.

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 15.—After a careful canvass of the situation the local bowlers claim that Cincinnati will be chosen as the meeting place for the American Bowling congress of 1908, and that Garry Herrmann will be chosen for the presidency of that body. Over 150 clubs have enrolled in the Cincinnati Bowling association, and this entitles the organization to 19 votes, not counting the one supposedly held by Charles J. Kauffman, who is a national officer. The entire Ohio delegation to St. Louis is for Cincinnati and Garry Herrmann, and will marshal 60 votes.

For Loss of Brains.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 16.—For the loss of a spoonful of brains, which he says he sustained when a long-handled adz fell from an upper story of the Central High school annex, George O. Bevens wants $20,000 damages. Bevens says the brains were grown by him with much effort, and he prized them highly. The adz was accident-tally dropped, it is said. Skeel Brothers were negligent, it is charged, in not having a temporary flooring above where Bevens was working.

Railway Company Sued.

Wellston, O., Feb. 16.—Prosecuting Attorney Evans Eubanks, at the instance of the state railway commission, has brought suit against the Toledo, Detroit & Ironton Railway company, of which Eugene Zimmerman is president, for permitting a car with a broken chain to go out in a train, thus causing trainmen to go between the cars to make a coupling. This is one of the first suits of its kind to be entered in the state.

He died while being strapped to the bed.

Pleaded "Unwritten" Law.

Lima, O., Feb. 16.—For seizing his razor and cutting the throat through which, it was charged, escaped a defamation of his daughter's name, Edward Dine of this city has been found guilty of murderous assault in the courts of Mercer county at Celina. The "unwritten law" was pleaded in vain. Lawrence Gibney, the young man who was assaulted, survived the wound.

Some of the oil spilled on the child and afterwards was ignited. The child's flesh was cooked until it fell from the body.

STANDARD OIL ENTERS DENIAL

Chicago, Feb. 16.—Picas of not guilty were formally entered by the Standard Oil company in seven of the eight cases in which the corporation is under indictment on the charge of accepting rebates from railroads in violation of the Elkins law. In the other case a plea of not guilty had already been entered. No date is set for the commencement of the trial, but it is probable that it will begin about the middle of March.

Japan Not in Line.

London, Feb. 16.—In a dispatch from Tokyo the correspondent of the Times says: "It is denied here upon good authority that Japan has agreed to any solution of the San Francisco problem depending upon restriction of the admission of Japanese laborers to the United States."

Survivor Succumbs.

SCENE IN COURT WHEN DR WAGNER, AN ALIENIST, WAS EXAMINED.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Dr. Wagner, who examined Thaw in the Tombs, was the subject of another lively clash between Messrs. Jerome and Delmas, the witness not being permitted to repeat his conversations with the prisoner.

FAMOUS WAR CORRESPONDENT DEAD.

London, Feb. 16.—Wm. Howard Russell, editor of the Army and Navy Gazette, is dead. He was 86 years old. He was a famous war correspondent.

SIR WILLIAM HOWARD RUSSELL, J. L. D., D. L., was one of the best known correspondents of his time, and was at the front in every war from the Crimean to the campaign in Egypt in 1883-84. One of his most notable achievements was his report of the first battle of Bull Run in the United States in which he beat all of the other correspondents, but his criticism of the Union officers was so caustic that it eventually led to his expulsion from the country.

It is not expected now that Mr. Jerome will ask for the appointment of a lunacy commission. He made this point clear on the part of the prosecution, while Lawyer Dan O'Reilly insisted, on behalf of the defendant, that Thaw is of sound mind today and that therefore it would be futile to apply for such a commission. Both sides, it is understood, desire to have the case tried out.

As the case stands, Thaw is assumed to be of sound mind. None of the experts called by the defense has said that Thaw is insane now. Dr. Evans, whose testimony is not complete, testified this week that in his opinion Thaw was of unsound mind when he killed White; also that he was of unsound mind during the first three visits he made to the Tombs, but that Thaw has improved since. All the other experts to be called by the defense say it is said, testify that Thaw is of sound mind today. Thaw is not of sane mind today, but that he was sane the day after he killed Stanford White.

TRADED WIVES AND ARE HAPPY

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 16.—A remarkable case has just come to light here in which two couples, both becoming weary of their marital ties, changed partners and have, according to latest accounts, found real happiness. Cash and Mrs. Green and her four children, while Green got Mrs. Cash without "boot."

Mrs. Mann died Monday. Relatives allege that money and valuables aggregating $15,000 which had been left by Mrs. Mann are in the custody of others than the natural heirs. The coroner ordered an autopsy.

THAW'S COUNSEL REVEAL PLANS

Alienists, Evelyn and Mother of Prisoner to Testify Next Week.

CONTENT THAW NOW SANE.

Prosecution Not to Ask For the Appointment of a Lunacy Commission. Celebrated Case Likely to Be Resumed Monday, Juror Bolton to Take His Place in the Box.

New York, Feb. 16.—The defense in the Thaw case announced their plans for next week. Dr. Wagner and Dr. Evans will be recalled to tell of conversations had with Thaw and which the court has ruled may be admitted. The prisoner's wife will then conclude her story, after which Mrs. William Thaw, the defendant's mother, will be called. For her, the ordeal, it is believed, will be made as brief as possible. Mrs. Thaw is expected to tell principally of the early life of her son and whether she discovered in him anything having a bearing on the present question of his recent insanity.

It is not expected now that Mr. Jerome will ask for the appointment of a lunacy commission. He made this point clear on the part of the prosecution, while Lawyer Dan O'Reilly insisted, on behalf of the defendant, that Thaw is of sound mind today and that therefore it would be futile to apply for such a commission. Thaw is not of sane mind today, but that he was sane the day after he killed Stanford White.

These Experts Are Doctors Flint, MacDonald and Mahon, Three of the Best Recognized Alienists in This Country.

They will, it is understood, testify that they have had no way of determining whether Thaw was sane when he killed Stanford White; that when they saw the prisoner June 26 and again June 27, he refused to submit to an examination, and although during the trial they have observed him in court, they have not been permitted to converse with him.

There appears no basis for a doubt that the trial will be resumed on Monday. Juror Joseph B. Bolton, the death of whose wife necessitated the present recess, communicated to Judge Fitzgerald his expectation of being able to take his place in the jury box. The funeral service for Mrs. Bolton was held today. Thaw, who had been reported as cast down at the possibility of a mistrial, declared himself in good health when his wife visited him. The prisoner went over the hundred or more letters the mails brought him. None seemed to please him more than a sympathetic message from a little girl in Baltimore.

JAIL SENTENCE FOR MILLIONAIRE

Chicago, Feb. 16.—David MacKenzie, a wife swindler of Dan. Mond, and sentenced to five months in the county jail for failure to pay alimony to his divorced wife in accordance with a decree issued by a local court two years ago. ## IRON TRADE REVIEW such high prices for the crude material. Buyers of laundry iron are also making a determined effort to obtain lower prices. Although some iron makers are very firm and are declining to make any concessions, the general disposition is to quote lower prices for future delivery. Finance interests are very firm and also decline to make any concessions. No iron makers have bid portions of the stock of iron for the last half year, but are not disposed to sell at $20, which is being offered by steel makers. At present, it is a waiting game, and it will be some time before the buyers and sellers will meet. The present probability seems to be that the price on Bessemer iron at half delivery will be between $20 and $22.

Chicago, Feb. 16.—The sale of Georgia Southern & Florida railroad ticket office here was announced and $200,000. The sale in John L. Roberts' store at Winfield, six miles from Lake City, was $40,000 and Walter Hummel, a local agent, who was arrested on a charge of murder in the Lake County jail by taking poison.

The iron situation in the south does not improve. About the railroads decided to not make the advance in freight rate 30 days, it was hoped that there would be a large movement of pig iron from the south during February, but with only half of the present month past, there is no indication that the situation will be relieved to any great extent. It will not be surprising if the shippers renew the agitation in opposition to the advance in freight rates.

Girl's Fearful Leap.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 15.—Miss Nora Baggett, 21, leaped from the sixth floor of a local department store where she was employed as a dress maker and met instant death on the pavement below. It is claimed the woman grieved over the recent death of her mother.

BRITISH COLLEGES NEED ENDOWMENT

SETTLEMENT OF JAP DISPUTE

Effected at a Conference Held at the White House.

THE BASIS JUST ANNOUNCED

President to Call Extra Session of Congress if the Amended Immigration Bill Fails—Measure Stirs Up the Staff Senators—Naval Appropriation Bill Passes House.

Washington, Feb. 16.—The San Francisco school controversy growing out of the segregation of the Japanese schoolchildren in that city has been settled. The basis of the agreement reached at the White House conference is that Mayor Schmitz and the members of the school board will, immediately after the passage of the immigration bill as reported by the conferees in congress, abolish the oriental schools and again admit Japanese to the white schools. The president and Secretary Root gave the San Franciscans assurances that if the bill is not passed an extra session will be called immediately after adjournment March 4.

An agreement to vote on conference report on immigration bill, which includes a provision intended to settle the California Japanese question, was reached in the senate. The principal speeches were delivered by Senators Bacon and Tillman. They argued that the measure would prevent the south from getting a desirable class of immigrants. Senator Tillman's warlike remarks brought a warning from Senator Lodge that if he continued he should move that the discussion proceed behind closed doors. Senator Gallinger expressed surprise that the conferees should contend that they had not injected "new" matter into the conference report, and Senator Carter said he should vote against the report entirely on that ground, and predicted its defeat.

Senator Carter contended that the conferees had exceeded their authority. Mr. Tillman added that he was "sick and disgusted with the disposition on the part of congress to surrender everything into the keeping of the president," adding: "If the man at the White House had not taken it upon himself to meddle with everything in the United States, we would not have this issue here." Mr. Tillman intimated that the president had been dicker with labor unions. Mr. Lodge claimed the conferees had not exceeded their authority and that in his opinion they had jurisdiction over all immigration laws. Mr. Gallinger arose to state that he was astounded by the answer of Mr. Lodge.

Trade With the Colonies.

Washington, Feb. 16.—Enormous growth in the trade of the United States with noncontiguous territories in 1905 as contrasted with 1904, is shown in figures compiled by the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor. In value, this commerce aggregates $121,000,000, compared with less than $100,000,000 in 1904. Of this trade, $59,000,000 in round number, consisted of merchandise shipped to those territories and $72,000,000 worth of merchandise received from them. In addition to this there was received from the Alaskan territory more than $13,500,000 worth of gold, being its own production and $6,500,000 of foreign gold, principally from the British territory adjacent.

Naval Bill Passed.

Washington, Feb. 16.—The naval appropriation bill, carrying in round numbers $66,000,000, passed the house. An effort was made by Mr. Darnall of Ohio to reduce the number of battleships authorized in the bill, but it was defeated, 114 to 146. Speeches were made for and against the amendment by Messrs. Burton (O.), Ketchum (N. C.), Slayden (Tex.), Crumpacker (Ind.), Hull (Ia.), Longworth (O.), Grosvenor (O.), Foss (Ill.) and others.

Adopt Congo Resolution.

Washington, Feb. 16.—The senate in executive session adopted a resolution extending cordial support to the peace of any Congo affairs, so long as the action is not inconsistent with treaty or other international obligations, with the traditional American policy which forbids participation in the European political questions.

Demand of Californians.

San Francisco, Feb. 16.—The Japanese League, reinforced by the active bodies, oppose a temporary suspension of the part of Mayor Schmitz in the Japanese school question. Officers of the league demand that the mayor hold out for an exclusion law as severe upon Japan as that which now applies to Chinese.

RELICS OF AN ANCIENT RACE IN NEBRASKA

Discovery of Skeletons of Primitive Man is Attracting the Attention of Scientists.

Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 16.—A two-horse wagon load of human bones and water-worn fragments of bones recently brought to the University of Nebraska from a mound north of Omaha has aroused excitement among scientists, not only of Americans, but of Europe as well.

The conclusion reached is that the bones are those of primitive man of a type dating further back than the mound builders and of a race older than any other race of which traces have been discovered in America.

All of these bones were found in connection with a loess deposit and established in the minds of geologists the opinion that the men to whom they once belonged lived anywhere from 10,000 to 20,000 years ago, when the loess or calcareous clay deposit was made.

The valley of the Missouri is a rich field for the geologists. The river has cut precipitous bluffs at many points exposing the various strata deposited in bygone ages. An amateur, Robert Gilder, who is also a newspaper reporter, has also discovered what is now called the Nebraska loess man.

The hill on which the discovery was made rises about 200 feet above the river. For the first 40 feet there is a carboniferous shale, upon the top of which there is about ten feet of glacial drift. Upon the drift is piled 150 feet of buff loess.

Gilder's attention was attracted to a low mound on the hill top. He dug into it and discovered first some Indian skulls, then two or three of mound builders. Still lower the amateur geologist found four skulls of more primitive type.

Mr. Gilder recognized the value of his find at once and sent word to E. H. Barbour, state geologist. Further excavations were made by a band of professors and students from the university and the full find was brought to light.

The loess structure and color are perfectly preserved, containing the characteristic tubes and shells. Prof. Barbour believes that the bones were synchronous with the loess because of their fragmentary and water-worn character and the improbability that ancients would dig graves to a depth of 12 feet.

The exact age of the lowest deposit is a question none of the scientific circles to discuss. They are now making arrangements to resume the digging at the earliest moment in spring so that by continued study some intelligent opinion may be formed.

The only conclusion they will state now is that the discovery indubitably proves that man existed in America back in the glacial period and they are almost unanimous in believing that the proof will be found somewhere in the valley of the Missouri or its tributaries.

Among those who have visited the museum and made a critical study is Dr. H. F. Osborn of the American museum of natural history. He says that the low, receding forehead and the high projections of bones above the eyes are not Indian characteristics and seem unlike any type of mound builders' remains uncovered.

He thinks the owner of the large fragment of skull was a man of low cranial capacity, of a type resembling the Australian negro, the lowest existing type of man. While the pro-

LITERARY BREVITIES.

Have you thought out who is to be our next president?

Are you interested in politics? The keenest, clearest article that has appeared on this subject is in the March issue of Broadway Magazine. It is written by Ervin Wardman, the brilliant editor of the New York Press, and shows how the Empire State is to be the storm-center of politics next year.

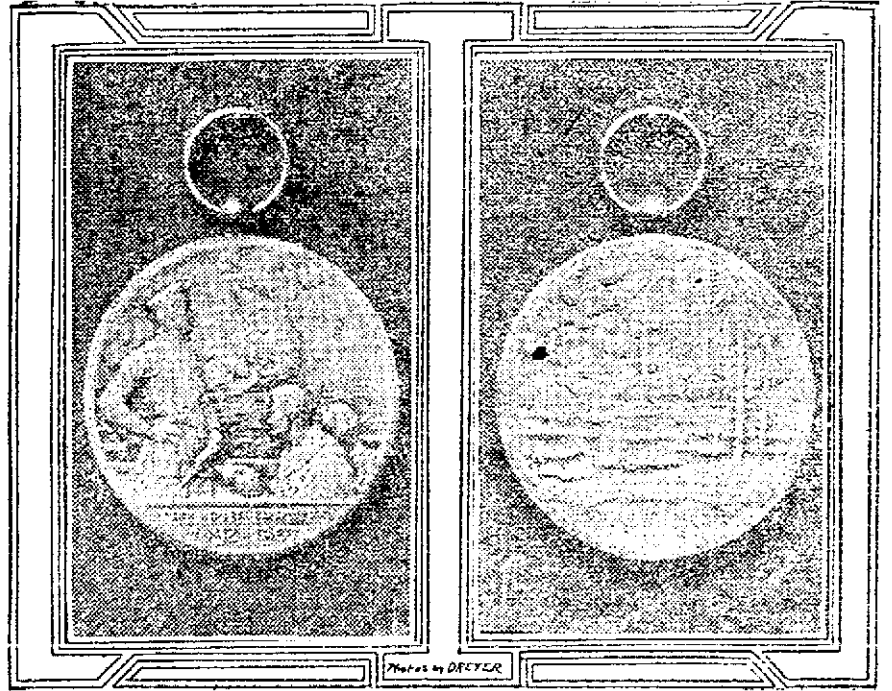

New York State, with her 39 electoral votes, is going to be a prominent factor in the election of our next president. Will the man be Hearst or Hughes or —? Read Ervin Wardman's article in the March issue of Broadway Magazine.

Bridge whist is the social cancer of the century. Read the argument of "Bridge" in the March Broadway Magazine.

The Limit of Life.

The most eminent medical scientists are unanimous in the conclusion that the generally accepted limitation of human life is many years below the attainment possible with the advanced knowledge of which the race is now possessed. The critical period, that determines its duration, seems to be between 50 & 60; the proper care of the body during this decade cannot be too strongly urged; carelessness then being fatal to longevity. Nature's best helper after 50 is Electric Bitters, the scientific tonic medicine that revitalizes every organ of the body. Guaranteed by F. D. Hall, Druggist, 59c.

ANCIENT AND HONORABLE ORDER OF SONS OF GUNBOATS.

New York, Feb. 16.—To preserve the records and traditions of their services while doing duty on board the flotilla of small auxiliary gunboats that were captured from Spain and to keep alive the sentiment of fellowship which had its inception when these midget craft were engaged in putting down the Philippine insurrection the "Ancient and Honorable Order of Sons of Gunboats" has been formed.

It was some years after the first establishment of the gunboat service that the officers who had been assigned to these little sea warriors first discussed the means that might be employed to preserve records and traditions, and well worth preserving these are, telling as they do of the many deeds of daring of which the world outside of that little one which engaged in it knows nothing.

The task of designing a distinctive badge was assumed by the late Lieutenant Joseph Wright Greene, through whom the society obtained the assistance of H. Reinhardt of New York.

HATCHED PLAN TO KILL THE NEGROES AT BROWNSVILLE

Is the Allegation of Witnesses Before the Senate Investigating Committee Friday.

Washington, Feb. 16.—Testimony alleging plans to massacre colored soldiers at Brownsville, Tex., by men from the town who fired over the barracks and challenged the soldiers to come out, was given by witnesses at the investigation before the senate committee on military affairs. The most sensational story was told by William Mapp, who was a member of Company C of Twenty-fifth infantry. Mapp was asked if he had ever heard any discussion of the shooting which caused him to suspect any persons of complicity. He replied that at breakfast on the morning following the shooting he heard Wilbur Vosschelle, the reservation corral boss, and a white man who had been in charge of the corral prior to the arrival of a battalion of the Twenty-fifth infantry, say: "Well, it is a good thing it happened as it did. I was out in town last night and the crowd came in front of me. The plan was to catch a lot of you fellows in Allison's saloon and massacre you." Mapp said that the remark was not addressed to him and that he did not question Vosschelle. Vosschelle has been subpoenaed as a witness.

Thomas Jefferson, who was the room orderly in Company C barracks, said that he heard the shooting, and thought there were 10 or 12 men firing. The shots, he said, came from the rear and near the end of B barracks. He said he saw the flashes from guns and thought the garrison was under attack.

Solomon P. O'Neill, also a former member of Company C, testified that the shooting was from near the wall at the end of Company B quarters, and that the shots were apparently over the barracks. He said he heard a man shoot and yell "come out." This occurred several times, said O'Neill, before he was compelled to leave the window and dress. He testified that there was great excitement in the barracks, that there was no light, and the men could not get their own rifles.

Germany's loss in the number of sheep reached 66 per cent in the years 1878 to 1904. Argentine competition largely accounts for it.

NEVER overlook the value of an Edison Phonograph as an ice breaker. Probably there is no function that is so hard to start but so enjoyable when really started as the average party.

Really, you cannot give a party without an Edison Phonograph. It is the best thing in the world to get over the first half-hour before people limber up and use their own wits. The Edison Phonograph introduces the wits of others at the right time, to make people talk and be sociable, but even for the gathering where all are congenial and well acquainted the Edison Phonograph will introduce a new note of amusement. It will cheer the most churlish, enliven the most dull and amuse the most unresponsive. It is irresistible because Edison made it. Dealers in this town sell it.
